

Update from St Joseph's Planning Group
August 2015

Over the last month we've received eleven expressions of interest from architectural teams who would like to be involved in the design and construction of our new St Joseph's Church. We've been impressed with the calibre and experience of the parties. We've reviewed all the proposals, and from the eleven have selected our preferred three.

We have met with the three teams, and have asked them to take part in a design competition over the next couple of months. We're in the process of finalising the brief for that competition.

The design competition won't give us a final design, but will help us to choose the architect and team (engineers, builders etc) who we think can deliver the best result for our parish. We will share the designs and other outcomes of that competition with parishioners once we have them.

In the meantime, if you have any questions or comments please talk to any member of our planning group (Fr John Adams, Graeme Wilson, Marianne Daly, Melissa Segar, Francois Baudet, or Wendy Skinner) or email us at st.josephs.pcg@gmail.com
